Petaim Claims France "Saved" By His Action

PARIS, June 11.—(AP)—Marshall Petaim said today he had asked an armistice as "the only way to preserve France." He told the commission, which was in the final preliminary hearing before his trial, that the action "prevented France from becoming another Poland."

"I believe more than ever that the armistice has been a saviour," he said. "It assured the liberty of hundreds of thousands of soldiers who would have been made prisoners. It enabled the existence of a free zone, which preserved the integrity of the French Empire and favored a landing of the Allies in the south."

In answer to a question whether the armistice was keeping with French obligations to Great Britain, Petaim said that he had asked an armistice as "the only way to preserve France." He told the commission, which was in the final preliminary hearing before his trial, that the action "prevented France from becoming another Poland."

Record Strikes New Air Blows By Superforts Batter Japan

From CP, AP and BTP Dispatches
GUAM, June 11.—Tokyo and a number of war production centres in the area in and around the city were rocked by high-explosive bombs on Sunday when B-29 Superfortresses flying from the newly acquired air base on Okinawa staged a series of daylight raids on the Japanese home islands.

The targets ranged in a semi-circle around Tokyo and hits were reported on engine works, airfields, war production centres, shipyards and arsenals. Some dock installations inside the target area were also hit, and fires were kindled in many of the places hit.

At Sukagawa, 115 miles northeast of Tokyo, the important engine works of the Hitachi company were hit, and other places along the coast were also hit. The island 80 miles to the southeast, 306 in length.

The raids were made by a striking force of 360 Superfortresses, and damage was heavy. Nearly 150 square miles of the island were hit.

"Behind the Scenes" Reveal High Nazis Ready to Surrender In August of 1944

From CP, AP and BTP Dispatches
BERCHESGADEN, June 11.—An astounding glimpse of the "behind the scenes" activities of the war from the German side, a file of eyewitness reports, hitherto marked "top secret" and now made public for the first time, shows that high ranking Nazis were ready to surrender to the Allies as early as last August.

The stories were uncovered after evidence had been collected by Allied military authorities in their investigation of happenings in and around Hitler's mountain hideout. Mostly they were the result of eye-witnesses from German prisoners, but they are backed up by secret files, which were not destroyed before the Allies took over.

They tell of the end of Field Marshal Gerd von Kluge, the German commander of the west, who General Dillmann met in the mountains, the troops landing on Lahn Island at the entrance of the bay, at Muehl Island on the eastern shore, and at nearby Brocken on the mainland.

Shattering naval and aerial bombardment preceded the entrance to the port and city of Brunei, Japanese naval base on Borneo.

Observers Say: Negotiations For Refunding Nearly at End

Final stage in negotiations for refunding of Alberta's public debt, involving sanction of federal Treasury officials, is believed to have been reached with the return of Hon. Louis Maynard, attorney general, who has been in Ottawa for talks with dominion authorities.

Premier Ernest Manning said Monday that Mr. Maynard will report on the final refunding agreement will be forthcoming following his return.

It was announced some weeks ago that Alberta cabinet ministers and representatives of the bondholders committee had reached a tentative settlement. Federal treasury officials had to be consulted as to details of the final settlement and conference on these details have been held from time to time.

It is possible that a special session of the Alberta legislature may be necessary to approve of the final agreement.

Highway Worker Is Fatally Injured

Julius Lewin, 35-year-old resident of Spruce Grove, was killed in a head-on collision with a truck on the Edmonton-Calgary highway, Edmonton, Saturday night, as the result of injuries received when he was struck by a truck which police said was driven by Morgan Fitzhugh of Edmonton.

The accident occurred Saturday afternoon on the Edmonton-Calgary highway between the Edmonton city limits and the Oliver school corner, during road-making operations. The truck was moving in the westward lane.

An inquest will probably be held later in the week, RCMP said.

Battle-Hardened Veterans Win All First Objectives

From CP, AP and BTP Dispatches
GUAM, June 11.—While the bloody battle for Okinawa moved on to a spectacular finish today, Australian troops who had been landed on the mainland of Borneo on Saturday moved inland and set up a bridgehead which gave the Allies control of strategic Brunei Bay on the Northwest coast, and another big base from which to build up for the final assault on the Japanese home islands and the Chinese mainland.

Three-Cornered Fight Fate of 954 Candidates Lies With 7,500,000 Canada Voters

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—Canadians are voting today to select in a general election Canada's 20th parliament with some 950 candidates nominated for 245 House of Commons seats.

The choice on a national scale and just one week after Ontario elected a new legislature, is between three major parties, the Liberals, seeking return to office after 12 years in opposition; the Progressive Conservatives; and the CCF, making its most important national bid. Each has enough candidates to form a government in this or that good bloc of them elected.

By constituencies the choice is wider still, for many candidates of lesser parties and independent contenders.

Some 7,500,000 voters, civilians and servicemen, are eligible to vote in the election.

In 1945, 4,620,000 voters cast ballots, the Liberals won 2,382,537, the Progressive Conservatives 1,240,000, and the CCF polled 202,500.

At dissolution the standing in parliament was Liberal 155, Conservative 105, CCF 20.

Chinese Close In On Airbase Cities

By Walter Rundle
KUNMING, June 11.—(UPI)—Chinese forces moved today in the recovery of two former major American bases today with a three-pronged advance toward Kweilin and an attack on Japanese forces in the vicinity of Lanchow, 90 miles to the northwest.

The high command said there were 100,000 Chinese in the advance, ready to start withdrawing from the Chinese frontiers, the base fell to the Japanese last September in their only drive into Kweichow province.

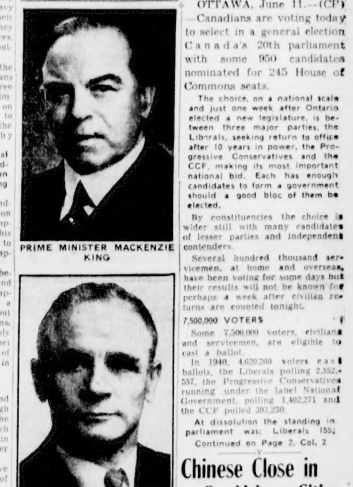

With the air base at Nanning in the southwest, the advance was expected to capture of Kweilin and Kweichow would give American and Chinese air forces a powerful network for bases for operations against Japan.

Desperate Plan by French Patriots To Seize Vichy Fleet Is Disclosed

By GEORGE TUCKER

PARIS, June 11.—(AP)—A desperate plan by French patriots to seize the Vichy-French fleet at Alexandria, shoot the officers and make off with the battleship Lorraine and eight other warships was plotted in the middle east during the dark days of 1942.

The plan was scotched by British naval officers after need for it was cancelled by a "no shopping" agreement between French and British officers.

There was no evidence that Gen. de Gaulle personally was behind the plan, but it was very real, worked out in minute detail. The plan originally was set for late 1942 and later changed to the spring of 1943.

KNOW ABOUT PLAN

It made three trips to Alexandria on time that the trip was about to be sprung. French naval officers later told me they knew about the plan and were ready to repel it with machine-guns on the decks of all the warships mounted 24 hours a day.

This fleet of one battleship, four heavy cruisers, three destroyers and a submarine was intercepted by British forces July 4, 1940, just 24 hours after the British battle squadron sank and crippled other units of the main French fleet at Oran.

British authorities at Alexandria removed all breeches from the French guns and limited the fleet to only enough fuel to keep ship in stations running. However, it was arranged Britain was to meet the French payroll at the British rate of pay, which was considerably higher than the pay of the French navy, and Admiral Godefrey and Admiral Harwood of the Royal Navy and other high naval officers lunched together frequently.

TOULON FLEET SCUTTLLED

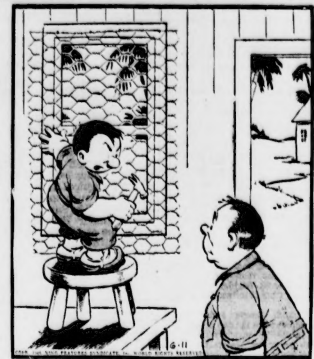

This amiable situation continued for the better part of two years until the French fleet at Toulon was scuttled.

For a time the payroll was suspended and shortly after this details of the plot to board the ships and take them over in the name of the Free French was perfected.

During this time Admiral Godefrey called one of his numerous captains attended by the captains of all the ships. He asked them where their sentiments lay. According to an officer, eight said they wanted to join the Allies, the others elected to remain with Vichy.

When Admiral Godefrey finally joined the Allies one day, he was promptly arrested. The other eight captains all figured in the invasion of southern France with the same crew and the ships they had captained during the two years of internment.

Russians and Vex engaged in forced labor in Germany were forbidden to go to church by their captors.

PRIVATE BUG—"All I could get was chicken wire, but that ought to keep out those New Guinea mosquitoes!"

McCoy Health Service

Diabetes usually develops only gradually in the older patient past 40 and a long time may be required before any noticeable symptoms present themselves. The first symptoms likely to be noticed by the patient are increased thirst and lack of strength.

However, in many cases the presence of the disorder is found accidentally through the patient taking an examination for life insurance and discovering during the course of such an examination that the kidney elimination remains an appreciable amount of sugar. There are records of the disease being found in this way before the patient developed enough symptoms to bring the disorder to his attention.

One of the great advantages of the regular health examination in the person past 40 is this advantage of finding diabetes while it is still in the mild stage, when it is most easily controlled.

Excessive thirst, when present, is most likely to be marked an hour or so after meals. Generally, the digestion is good in diabetic patients, and the appetite sharply increased. The patient may complain of pain in the lower region of the back. The tongue may undergo various changes, becoming dry, red and glazed, and the mouth may feel dry. The skin is often dry and harsh and itching of the skin may prove a distressing symptom.

In spite of eating more food, the patient may slowly lose in weight.

Judicial Meet Studies Paper On Evictions

CALGARY, June 11.—(CP)—

Eviction proceedings were the subject of an address to the judicial conference in Calgary Saturday by Mr. Justice C. J. Ford, of Edmonton.

Mr. Justice Ford was the only speaker at the session, which closed the two-day conference, attended by all Alberta supreme court judges of the district court, representatives, lawyers and public officers.

Remainder of the morning was devoted to open discussion on subjects brought up by speakers at the opening meeting Friday.

EVICTON DISCUSSION

Mr. Justice Ford, in his address, outlined particulars of several applications for eviction made to him in chambers and pointed out the difficulties of administration rental control laws without harsh results to defendants.

Because of decisions of judges who gave tenants additional time beyond their eviction date to find a new home, either by a "stay of judgment" or adjournment of an eviction application hearing, "Many nasty cases have been avoided," he said.

During the meeting judges and others present paid tribute to Judge J. A. Jackson, Lethbridge district court judge, who has tendered his resignation.

No recommendations will be made as a result of the conference because members felt subjects discussed at the meeting should be further considered. It was intimated similar meetings would be held annually hereafter, and future conferences may result in action.

Americans Buy All Meat Supply In Ontario Town

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 11 (CP)—Starting as early as 3 a.m., meat-hungry Americans invaded this border city by the hundreds yesterday and cleaned up the entire stock of meat and fowl on the city market before most local shoppers had a chance to buy their weekend supplies. Similar raids at Windsor have been blocked by a meat embargo in that area.

During the war RAF bomber command flew 60,127 sorties and dropped 1,039,643 tons of bombs, including 736,594 tons on Germany itself. In addition, the RAF laid 47,520 mines, which the air ministry said, sunk or damaged more than 1,000 ships and kept more than 40 per cent of German naval personnel employed in minesweeping and mine watching.

There was no breakdown in the review to show the part played by Canadian and other Commonwealth forces in the RAF. But the air ministry has conceded that, apart from the RCAP's own bomber group, Canadians formed more than one-third of the total air crew in RAF bomber command.

Night Raids Beat Foe Bomber Force

LONDON, June 11.—(CP)—

Seven other Lancaster bombers of the RCAP No. 6 bomber group overseas arrived in Yarmouth, N.S., during the weekend, and six more are on route there while two planes are on their way to Dartmouth, N.S., eastern air command headquarters announced yesterday.

Represented in the arrivals are the Moose, Ghost and Froquois squadrons. The four Lancasters that arrived in Dartmouth on Friday are the first to be sent to the front line in the following day. There now are 26 of the overseas Lancaster bombers at Yarmouth.

Sent Prisoners To Die of Cold In North Regions

LONDON, June 11.—(CP)—

The Germans sent 41,000 Soviet prisoners of war to the Arctic region of Norway in a die a slow death from cold and hunger, according to a Swedish Red Cross statement quoted Saturday by Luxembourg.

They were denied medical care and some were shot. Large numbers of Swedish doctors and nurses were sent to care for these men. "Never in history has any nation treated its prisoners of war so inhumanly as the Germans have done in this particular case," the statement said.

Baby's Life Saved By Throat Surgery

MONTREAL, June 11.—(CP)—

Hospital authorities last night were still unable to say when the six-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Vella of Winnipeg would be well enough to leave home but said the baby, who was operated on Friday for removal of a throat obstruction, was in "very good condition."

The baby's life was saved by an air dash to hospital here from Winnipeg after doctors there had decided a throat operation was necessary to save it from starvation. At that time the baby was two days old and a throat obstruction had prevented him from eating.

The operation, which took five hours, was performed by Dr. Dudley Ross, surgeon-in-chief at Children's Memorial Hospital.

Alied Leaders Are Presented Soviet Honor

FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN

June 11.—(AP)—Gen. Eisenhower received Soviet Russia's highest award, the jeweled Order of Victory, from Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov yesterday and said the Allies "are going to have peace even if we have to fight for it."

Field Marshal Montgomery also received the Order of Victory.

Gen. Eisenhower declared that the European war just finished had been a holy war—more than any other war in history.

In a toast to the Russian people, Gen. Eisenhower, commander of Russian occupation forces in Germany, Gen. Eisenhower said: "Speaking for the Allied forces, I want to say that we are going to have peace even if we have to fight for it."

All of us who are fighting want the common man of all nations to have the opportunity that we fought to preserve for them."

Gen. Eisenhower's speech was made at a luncheon in his headquarters which honored Marshal Zhukov, commander of Russian occupation forces in Germany, and nearly 60 high-ranking military figures from Britain, the United States and Russia.

Marshal Zhukov, losing the supreme Allied commander, described him as a son of the American people and said he belonged with the immortal great all time for welding the victorious Allied armies of the world.

Of so many different peoples, the Russian people have never before in history been presented to the world as a united people. Gen. Eisenhower's words were warmly received.

The medal is a glittering star of diamonds and rubies and is worth a minimum of $12,000.

Marshal Zhukov did not pin the medals on Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery, but presented them to the Allied commanders in a special box.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS.—Wounded gun soldiers fired from American tanks greeted Field Marshal Montgomery and Marshal Zhukov on their arrival.

A special color guard marched between American units in a grand review with the Union Jack holding the center point between the American and Russian flags in honor of Field Marshal Montgomery. The order of the flag was changed after Marshal Zhukov arrived when the Russian flag was placed in the center.

HAPPY HOMECOMING—More than 1,000 RCAF officers and airmen released from German prison camps, the largest homeward movement of former prisoners, reached Halifax on the troopship Louis Pasteur on Thursday (June 7). The picture shows part of the cheerful throng as they gathered on the sports deck to listen to Air Vice Marshal A. L. Morley, CBE, Commander-in-Chief, Eastern Air Command.

Will Wipe Out Every Vestige Of Nazi Rule

21ST ARMY GROUP HEAD-

QUARTERS, Germany, June 11.—(AP)—Field Marshal Montgomery last night held out hope to the Germans that the policy of non-fraternization can be modified when the last vestiges of Nazism have been wiped out.

He said it must continue for the present to bring home to the Germans their war guilt and to avert the danger of a third world war.

The commander of the British zone of occupation in the Reich, in a message over the Hamburg radio, said the non-fraternization rule was being enforced to teach "an ultimate and final lesson."

In simple, forcible language, Field Marshal Montgomery said: "Probably you have wondered why our soldiers have not been more friendly to you and ignore you when you say good morning to the street, and why they do not play with your children."

"Our soldiers are according to orders given them."

DON'T LIKE ATTITUDE.—"You do not like the attitude. Our soldiers do not like it either. We are naturally friendly, easygoing people, but the order was a necessity and I tell you why."

"In the first World War, begun by Germany, your Wehrmacht was the aggressor. It was the aggressor, and in the peace Treaty of Versailles your leaders admitted Germany bore the guilt for that war."

Searchlights Used Great Soviet Night Attack Won the Battle of Berlin

By EDDY GILMORE

BERLIN, June 11.—(AP)—Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov said Saturday Soviet Russia actually won the battle of Berlin and not the city, for it was in the German defenses in depth along the Oder that the enemy was really beaten.

"The Germans were expecting a heavy blow," he said. "We knew this, so we had to introduce some element of surprise. To make sure of this, I, as commander of the attack, ordered an attack along the entire front from left to right. The Germans were not looking for this."

"The Germans expected a night attack, but they did not think the entire weight of the offensive would come along."

ENEMY BLINDED.—"The marshal then gave for the first time the story of the Russian attack, with tanks and troops and planes moving ahead at night and powerful searchlights showing the way and blinding the enemy."

"We launched this tank attack on the night of April 19-20 after terrific artillery and mortar preparation. We threw 4,000 tanks into the German lines supported by searchlights and by 2,000 guns and mortars and 4,000 to 5,000 planes. Our planes made 15,000 sorties within a 24-hour period."

"We broke their resistance quickly and moved in. Reserves were routed as they came up to planes and tanks. So by the time we reached Berlin its defense was shattered."

Predicts Japanese To Fight Two Years

OKINAWA, Delagated—

Gen. Joseph Stilwell said today it is quite possible that we will have to fight in Manchuria, even should the Japanese home islands fall. He predicted the Pacific war easily could last at least two years longer.

In his first interview on his inspection tour of Pacific troops, the commanding general of the United States Army Group 5, Gen. Stilwell, said war correspondents that many people in the United States believe the Japanese can be bombed out of the war but "personally I believe it will require ground action in addition to anything done by bombings."

"I don't see any reason to expect a crack-up of the Japanese," said the former commanding general of the China-Burma-India theatre.

Big Five Victory Seen on Voting

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—(CP)—Further discussion will take place today on Big Five voting control on the United Nations Security Council, but responsible sources said the Big Five could count on enough votes in committee to support their interpretation.

There is a possibility that the matter may be put to a committee vote today, although some of the smaller powers still are expected to express objections to the extent of veto powers allowed Britain, Russia, the United States, China and France on the security council.

However, the leader of the Australian delegation, H. V. Evatt, who has been one of the leaders of the anti-veto campaign, has said that should the proposed voting procedure be accepted by the committee and the conference, his country would accept the verdict.

U.S. Wac, Two Soldiers Survive Transport Crash in Dense Jungle

By RALPH MORTON

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea, June 11.—(AP)—A glider expert who knows the jungle and its strange tribesmen acted as aerial adviser Saturday while paratroopers in the "hidden valley" of Shangri-La prepared a rescue.

The expert, Sqn. Ldr. Michael J. Leahy of the Royal Australian Air Force, probably will lead the glider and remove the member of the United States Women's Army Corps and two army aviators who survived a transport crash 28 days ago when it killed a score of other army sightseers.

Watched by giant, spear-armed natives, the paratroopers labored on the swampy strip in the fantastic valley 150 miles southeast of Hollandia. The paratroopers had brought the natives their first contact with the world outside.

Nearby are the red and white pyramidal army tents which house the surviving trip, two medical technicians, eight paratroopers and Capt. Cecil A. Walters, native of Oregon who has spent most of his life in the Philippines. Walters is the ground director.

AID BY PARACHUTE.—The men parachuted to attend the survivors and build the field where the glider will be sent in, then jerked into the air by the grabhook of a low-flying C-47.

He dropped you a case of beer," announced Maj. George Gardner, of Cleveland, in a conversation on a supply flight.

"That's the best news we've had yet," replied a Filipino paratrooper, using a parabolized machine.

The trio of survivors—WAC Capt. Gerald Hastings, Oswego, N.Y.; Lt. John B. McCollum, Trenton, Mo., and Sgt. Kenneth W. Decker, JAP GETS A STEER—Acting as a steering committee of one, a U.S. Marine guided a Japanese prisoner along the road to captivity on Okinawa.

Kelin, Wash.—are being treated for injuries by paratrooper medical supplies and are in good condition.

SUPERVISED LANDING.—Months ago, Sqn. Ldr. Leahy supervised a glider landing in a little explored Hittan valley of New Guinea where conditions are somewhat analogous to Hidden Valley. The six-foot natives of Hidden Valley have made no menacing move although known to war on each other. However, they have been slow to make friends. Walters' men are armed.

Big Five Victory Seen on Voting

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—(CP)—Further discussion will take place today on Big Five voting control on the United Nations Security Council, but responsible sources said the Big Five could count on enough votes in committee to support their interpretation.

There is a possibility that the matter may be put to a committee vote today, although some of the smaller powers still are expected to express objections to the extent of veto powers allowed Britain, Russia, the United States, China and France on the security council.

However, the leader of the Australian delegation, H. V. Evatt, who has been one of the leaders of the anti-veto campaign, has said that should the proposed voting procedure be accepted by the committee and the conference, his country would accept the verdict.

Dr. Evatt noted that Russia had withdrawn from its demands for veto powers which would affect even discussion of disputes by the council.

Brenner, USAF, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Brenner of Battle Creek, Mich. The Rev. Canon Winston M. Nainby performed the ceremony. Guest lists were marked with little bow-ties and white roses. The bride and her three attendants were dressed in white.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace and a fitted long veil fell softly from a wreath of orange blossoms and the carried a cascade of American Beauty roses. Her only jewelry was an antique pendant belonging to her mother.

MATRON OF HONOR
Attending the bride were Mrs. R. G. Thomas, matron-of-honor; Mrs. Rae Churchill and Miss Anne Mainwaring, bridesmaids. All wore gowns of white sheer, satin and lace, caps of flowers holding in place the short white veils. The bridesmaids and their attendants completed their ensembles and they carried colonial bouquets. The bride's maid was Miss Jeanne McNeil. The best man was Capt. John Comb, USAF, and the ushers were J. Spencer and L. P. Mulcaire, both of the USAF.

Herbert White, organist, played the wedding music and Sgt. J. Vaughn sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register. Mrs. Merryweather chose for her daughter's wedding a formal gown of rose green, a black picture hat and a corsage of gardenias.

RECEPTION
After the ceremony a reception for 125 guests was held at the home of the bride's father. The table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake and decorated with pale pink peonies and sweet peas. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table. The bride's mother, Mrs. B. H. Merryweather, presided at the head of the table. The bride's father, Lt.-Col. B. H. Merryweather, was seated next to her. The bride's brother, Capt. G. P. Brenner, was seated next to her. The bride's sister, Miss Beryl Merryweather, was seated next to her. Discuss Continued Need Hog Produce

Importance of commercial hog production in Alberta's agricultural economy was stressed by Dr. R. D. Sinclair, University of Alberta dean of agriculture, Saturday when he spoke at the 24th annual Farmers Day at the university.

The event was attended by 750 farmers.

Dr. Sinclair discussed research conducted at the university to benefit agriculture. Dealing with hog production, he declared that the "pig business in this province has paid a dividend for more than 25 years," and spoke of the need for more in liberated Europe.

He advised the farmers to be careful in their selection of sows and boars since it would appear that more depends on breeding than on feeding hogs.

Prof. J. P. Saville, professor of animal science at the university, described the production of beef and the performance of the dual purpose herd. Experiments in feeding sheep and dairy cows were discussed by Dr. J. K. McAllister.

Dr. W. McKinley spoke of protein supplements for pigs, while Dr. R. W. Watson spoke of vaccination for Bang's disease.

It was revealed that a field day will be held late in July in the field plots and laboratories by Dr. A. G. McCalla and the staff of the field crops department.

Lord Haw-Haw Hopes to Escape All Punishment

By MOORE KERR

LUENBURG, Germany, June 11. — (Reuters) — American-born William Joyce, connected with British Fascist activities before he went to Germany where his broadcast work earned him the sobriquet "Lord Haw-Haw," hopes to escape retribution through complications arising out of his nationality, it is reported Saturday.

Margaret White, the woman described as his wife, told her guard, Sgt. Maj. Edward, that Joyce said: "We are not British subjects. We were forced to work for the Nazi party."

To-poke means "good place to raise potatoes" in Indian.

Disclose Nazis Ready to Quit In August, 1944

from after Normandy tried to desert to the Americans to escape execution, after being implicated in the attempt on Hitler's life last July.

The rebellious field marshal secretly arranged a rendezvous with American Third Army officers on a lonely country road near Aachen, leaving his command unattended.

von Kluge and his staff drove to the meeting place. They then fled to the parking place, with the lights and guards posted, waiting for the Americans, but the Americans did not arrive.

Finally, fearing betrayal, the German commander von Rundstedt rushed back to his headquarters. But too late. He had been betrayed.

von Kluge had not been betrayed by the Americans. The war had ended. von Kluge and his staff were forced to wait for minutes, then hours, as the Allied air forces bombed a head-on bombing attack on the roads they were to travel.

When they reached the Aachen road, it was deserted. von Kluge, and perhaps the command of his division, was gone. He fled together with the surrender that might have altered the whole course of the war, and knocked Germany out then and there.

The field marshal learned that another of the anti-Hitler conspirators, Gen. Erwin von Strohmayer, the commander in Paris, had shot and blinded himself in a Verdun hotel room.

von Kluge then fled to the Netherlands, where he was waiting to carry his staff back to Berlin and Hitler.
